

RSJ - YOUR KEY TO A THRIVING BUSINESS

Small and mid-sized public companies often find themselves in a unique situation. The technical nature of the work they require is not offered by many firms outside of the largest in the country. But large firms too often focus their expertise on their largest clients, leaving smaller public companies struggling for the attention and service they expect.

Because public companies have never been more public, the challenges of doing business now transcend the competitive marketplace. Companies of all sizes are presented with a confusing maze of financial requirements, procedures and prohibitions. Whether juggling the often-incomprehensible rules and requirements of corporate taxes, compliance and audits; handling Mergers & Acquisitions or Succession Planning; or just tackling Cash Flow Management, you need the experience of professionals who can ensure your business has the ability to thrive.

We combine the expertise of a national firm with the attentive service of a local team. The partners at Rose, Snyder & Jacobs have experience working with the top leading corporations. Our Public Companies team combines big firm technical expertise with the processes, ethics, and personal touch of a local firm.

Our client focused services ensure that you get accessible, hand-picked advisors to serve your needs and help make sure your company stays ahead of the competition. RSJ's professionals are highly skilled at evaluating complex situations, discovering hidden opportunities and crafting effective plans as unique as each of our clients' companies and objectives.

Our professionals have worked with public companies throughout the growth and maturation of their business, from IPO's, and initial SEC registration to ongoing SEC reporting and compliance.
